The text of the abstract goes here and you may freely use any LaTeX code including your own macros defined in the preamble of your latex file, like $x \in \mathbb{R}$. The entire abstract must fit on one page in the given layout.

If you wish to include references, they should be listed at the end of the abstract with the `\wavesbib` command. The example below gives some typical references – please use this format approximately. Citations are inserted by hand like [1,2]. For such short abstracts we decided not to do anything fancy here.
